

STUDENTS' SOCIETY TO HEAR CANDIDATES TOMORROW

Mock Parliament Passes Government Housing Bill Opposition Amendments

Bills Tabled on Franchise Extension, Immigration Admission, Facist; CBC Records the First Half Four

The Housing Bill, sponsored by the Labour Progressive Government, and both the Liberal amendment and C.C.F. sub-amendment were passed by large majorities at the third session of the Mock Parliament held last night in the Union Ballroom.

An attempt by the Liberals to introduce a vote of non-confidence in the L.P.P. administration failed when a vote on the motion to adjourn was passed by the House by a small majority.

The first half hour of the proceedings was recorded for rebroadcast by the C.B.C. If approved, the broadcast will take place on Monday evening at 9.30 p.m.

At the beginning of the session, bills were tabled asking for the reopening of the trials of the Canadian Fascist Leader Adrien Arcand, admission of immigrants to Canada on a quota basis, the extension of the franchise to all Canadians reaching the age of 18, and penalties for racial or religious discrimination in industrial, cultural and other fields.

Under the Housing Bill, the Federal Government is now empowered to proceed with a program of low rental building to erect 50,000 homes annually during the next five years. By passing the C.C.F. sub-amendment, the House deleted the specific billion dollar loan figure sought by the L.P.P. government.

All parties strongly endorsed the main provision of the bill.

All parties strongly endorsed the principle that the need of houses for the Canadian people is of paramount importance. The Liberal party felt that the Housing Bill was a compromise of L.P.P. principles and, therefore, supported the measure. Support for the Bill came also from the Progressive Conservative party although they strongly denounced the Communist Government during the session. They had not proposed an amendment to the Bill because the main provisions were acceptable to them and they did not want to waste the time of the House on the discussion of minor details. The C.C.F. party felt that the billion dollar loan was undesirable because it would centre even more financial power in the hands of large institutions such as life insurance companies.

Professor Raphael Tuck acted as House Speaker for the session.

CAMERA CLUB
The camera Club is holding a display of prints in the library for one week, starting March 4th. Entries for this display may be submitted by any photographers on the campus, the only restrictions being that they must not have been previously shown on the campus. Entries should be mounted and should be between 8 x 10 and 11 x 14 inches in size. They may be left with Irving Cohen, Arch 4, the president of the Club.

CUP WIRES

Winnipeg. Students at the University of Manitoba are performing Macbeth at the Playhouse Theatre on March 14, 15, and 16. The set and costumes will be Elizabethan, rather than the traditional Scottish, in order to give the production the greatest possible similarity to the actual staging of Shakespeare's play.

Kingston. Dr. D. Jenness in addressing the Queen's Public Affairs Club stated that Canada was shirking her responsibility in the Arctic, and also in her attitude toward the Eskimos.

Dancing at Gym To Follow Game At Forum Friday

Proceeds Will Go
To Aid McGill's
Memorial Effort

By BETTY BREWER

A gala evening is in store for McGill Friday night. After the Varsity game at the Forum, the Red and White Society is sponsoring a dance at the Currie Gym which promises to be one of the best informals of the season. The Westerners, one of the up and coming bands of the season, will provide music from 10 a.m. till 2 p.m. and will introduce one of the feature songs from the Red and White Revue, "Dusty Rose." This number is one of the original songs featured in the Revue; the music and the arrangement are by Roy Dohn and the lyric by Molra Wedderspoon.

In addition a raffle of tickets for the Red and White Revue will be held. All proceeds from this raffle and from the dance itself will go to the War Memorial Continuing Campaign fund. In order to facilitate transportation from the Forum to the Gym, the Red and White Society has chartered 8 buses.

As a representative of the Memorial Campaign Committee has said, "Here is an opportunity of showing the graduates that we are wholeheartedly behind the Memorial Campaign, and at the same time spending an enjoyable evening."

Tickets for the dance will be sold at the door at 50 cents for students and 75 cents for outsiders. Bus tickets will be ten cents per student and will be sold at the game.

Dance Club Holds
Concert March 7

Modern Techniques
Will Be Presented;
Student Tickets 25c

The McGill Modern Dance Club annual concert will take place on Thursday, March 7, at 8.30 in the upper gym of R.V.C. The tickets, which may be bought from the Physical Education office at R.V.C. or from any member of the club, will cost 25c for students and 50c for outsiders.

Under the direction of Miss Thelma C. Wagner, the members of the club practice techniques, and compose dances during the year. All the dances presented in the concert have been created by the pupils, except the one in which Miss Wagner will solo. Last year her dance proved to be a great success.

Many people do not know just what modern dancing is. It is neither jitterbugging nor the classic form of expression, but is defined as the over or under exaggeration of movement. It endeavours to express some idea in dance form. Starting in the U.S. as an option to the ballet, its popularity has been increasing steadily.

Thursday's concert program will include a wide range of variety. There will be some comic dances, though most will be in a serious strain.

NFCUS To Consider Proposals Of S.E.C.

The proposals of the Students' Executive Council, concerning Constitutional provisions for the structure and autonomy of the Permanent Committee of the N.F.C.U.S. will be discussed at a meeting to be held today, February 28, at 1 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

Messages have been sent out to the Regional Vice-President of the National Federation of Canadian University Students and to the N.F.C.U.S. committees on each University campus to investigate the possibility of having a regional conference this coming Easter. There are a number of important projects to be launched at this conference; it would be of value that there should be preliminary discussion to result in a well-considered brief to be submitted on this occasion for action if deemed advisable.

Spanish Program Features Drama 'Senior Maestro'

Students Will Present
Skits, Songs, Dances
Moyses Hall March 28

The three-act drama "El Senior Maestro," two skits written by students, Spanish Folk Songs, and a traditional Basque Dance, will be presented by the Spanish Department Thursday, March 28 in Moyses Hall.

The theme of "El Senior Maestro" is the clash of wills between a small town "Caudillo," or political boss, and the old Maestro, a humble country teacher, who stands for freedom and the enlightenment of the people. Jose Berruti, the author of the play, is a contemporary Argentine writer and one of the leading exponents of inter-American cooperation. El Senior Maestro, aided by his students who have learnt his liberal ideas, finally triumphs over the ruthless Caudillo.

"Carmen Miranda" dance will be a feature of "Los Cafes," one of the skits being presented on this program. This skit was written by Alex MacKenzie, a second year Spanish student, and adapted for production by Senor Rojo of the Spanish Department. The second skit, which is by Lya Popper, a third year Spanish student, is called "Los ojos verdes" or "Green Eyes."

Senorita Maria-Rosario Prados will direct a Basque folk dance, similar to those performed by the peasants of the northern provinces of her native Spain. The dance will be made completely authentic by the accompaniment, which will be the Basque flute-like instrument.

Tickets on Sale
For Hillel Dance

Informal To Be Held
In Ballroom of Union
On Saturday, Mar. 2

An informal dance will be held in the Union Ballroom Saturday night, March 2, to conclude the United Jewish Students' Appeal which the Hillel Foundation is now sponsoring.

Tickets for the dance go on sale today and cost $1.25 per couple. They can be obtained from the Union Tuck Shop, the Janitor of the Arts Building, and at the Hillel House, 3460 Stanley Street. Music will be supplied by Don Cameron and his orchestra, and the dance committee has announced that there will be entertainment. This informal is the only large affair of its kind which the Hillel Social Committee plans for this season.

The patrons of the dance are Rabbi and Mrs. Soltes, Dr. and Mrs. Paul, Dr. and Mrs. Rosenthal, and Professor Tuck.

The proceeds of the dance will be given to the United Jewish Students' Campaign, an appeal for the Jewish National Fund, the Joint Distribution Committee, and various Jewish cultural institutions.

CANDIDATES' PLATFORMS

Vice-President of the McGill Union

P. L. Baxter

I should like to express my appreciation to all those who nominated me to the position of Vice-President of the Students' Union. To be brief my platform is:

(1) A determined effort to get a new Union and in the meantime work for enlargement facilities of the present one.

(2) Strict enforcement of such regulations as not allowing bridge playing in the Grill Room during the lunch hour.

(3) Investigation of how we could have cheaper meals in the Cafeteria. In as much as the meals at Hart House, University of Toronto, are only twenty-five cents each, I see no reason why the meals in our Cafeteria should not be considerably lower than they are, and I shall work towards this end.

I feel that my experience at the University of Manitoba (two years) and in the Army (three years) should assist me in the position of Vice-President of the Students' Union.

John S. Chipman

Many appealing promises can be made for the improvement of the McGill Union. It has been shown in the past, however, that the greatest promise for the future is the record of the candidate in the past.

I will cooperate to the best of my ability with the other members of the Union House Committee to maintain the greatest possible efficiency in the Union as is possible under existing conditions. For example, the magazines in the reading room should be bound.

Further, I will continue the work of the already existing Union Expansion Committee, which is laying the basis for reconversion and enlargement of the Union, and investigating the possibilities of a site for a new and larger Union in several years' time.

I will aim for the support of the Students' Executive Council in backing the recommendations of the Union Expansion Committee.

Peter Hadrill

As I have been at Dawson this past year, I am not conversant with the problems which concern the present executive of the McGill Union or those which next year's executive must concern themselves. For this reason and because I do not believe in electionary promises I will not put forth any specific points in this platform. What I do promise is that if elected I will carry out the duties of vice-president of the McGill Union to the best of my ability with the interests of the student body in mind at all times.

Activities:
1939-1941—McGill Science.
1942-1945—R.C.N.V.R.
1946—President Dawson Student Society and President of Engineering I.

Platforms of Nominees To Be Given in Union Ballroom 5.15 Friday

Positions on Women's Union Executive Will Also Be Contested

DAWSON ELECTION RESULTS

The results of Dawson elections held Friday for January term students are as follows:

President of D.S.C.: Peter H. Skelton.

President of 1st Year Eng.: Richard Cornell.

President of 1st Year B.Sc.: Raymond N. Camus.

Vice-President 1st Year Eng.: Allan Rowe.

Vice-President 1st Year B.Sc.: Z. E. Weiss.

Canteen Committee Chairman: Leslie J. Tait.

Social Convener: T. Black.

House Committee Chairman: Lloyd Wood.

Candidates for the major campus positions to be contested on Tuesday will be presented to the student body at large tomorrow afternoon at 5.15 in the Union Ballroom. A similar meeting is planned for Dawson College on Monday evening, but definite plans have not been made as yet.

Tomorrow, the nominees for the positions of President of the Students' Society and President of the McGill Union will be given an opportunity to speak, while contestants for the positions of Vice-president of the Union, Secretary of the Union and Representative to the Advisory Athletics Board will be presented.

Contestants include:

PRESIDENT OF THE STUDENTS' SOCIETY
Ballon, Jon.
Ross, Donald A.
Starkie, John L.

PRESIDENT OF THE MCGILL UNION
Goring, Vincent I.
Pratt, Robert C.
Townsend, David L.

VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE MCGILL UNION
Baxter, Peter L.
Chipman, John S.
Hadrill, Peter G.

SECRETARY OF THE MCGILL UNION
Clemson, Fred.
Hayes, Murray W.
MacDonald, Brian R.
White, Paul L.

REPRESENTATIVE TO THE ADVISORY ATHLETICS BOARD
Ballon, Edward M.
Davis, Raymond H.
Robinson, Murray.

An election meeting to hear candidates for the positions of President of the Women's Union and Secretary of the Women's Union will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4.30 in the R.V.C. Common Room. Presidential candidates will be the last to present their platforms, so students having 5 o'clock lectures will be in time for them. Everyone is urged to attend the Union meeting.

PRESIDENT OF THE WOMEN'S UNION
Baxter, Eleanor.
Brown, Heddie.
Jackson, Barbara.

SECRETARY OF THE WOMEN'S UNION
Mackay, Joy.
Mitham, Mary.
Ryan, Ann.
Trevis, Alice.

WORLD EVENTS

Bombay. Some 2,500 Indian troops revolted today at Jabulpore, 550 miles north east of Bombay. The troops paraded through the streets carrying Moslem and Congress flags.

Paris. Spanish authorities today closed the French-Spanish frontier, stationing troops along the Spanish side of the border. The French government expressed gratification at the receipt of a note from the U.S.A., which promised support toward the French attitude in its relations with the Madrid regime.

Washington. Various spokesmen from New York state today joined voices with industrial, commercial, and shipping interests from other parts of the east in assailing the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power project in the third day of opposition testimony before a Senate foreign relations sub-committee.

Secretary of the McGill Union

Fred Clemson

In presenting my platform for the secretaryship of the McGill Union, I should like to thank all those who nominated me and assure them that if I am elected I shall do the work entailed to the fullest extent of my capabilities.

It is my belief that the facilities of our Union are most inadequate, and, if elected, I would do all in my power to add momentum to the move afoot to acquire larger quarters. I am prepared to live in the Union, which would give maximum opportunity to do the work, and do it well.

I have acted in executive capacity with the following organizations: The McGill Daily; the Arts and Science, Undergraduate Society, as Publicity Manager; the Philosophy Club; the Bridge Club, and various other groups. On the basis of this work, I would suggest to you that (Continued on Page Four.)

Murray W. Hayes

First of all, I would like to thank all those students who nominated me for this position.

If elected, I will attempt in every way possible to fulfill all the duties and responsibilities connected with this position.

I am in no way connected with any political faction on the campus, and shall try on every occasion to act without a biased opinion.

I am acquainted with almost all the candidates running for the other positions, and if elected, I feel that close co-operation could be effected.

The McGill Union figures prominently in campus activities. It is a general meeting place of all students, and as such I feel that everything possible ought to be done in administering it so that it will continue to serve the best (Continued on Page Four.)

Brian MacDonald

I would like to state my platform as follows:

1. The Union facilities are now hopelessly overcrowded. It is part of the Senate's plan for post-war expansion of the University to provide students with a new Union. Until such time as this may be effected, I feel that the best plan to follow is to put into effect a system distributing the Union facilities as evenly as possible.

2. I would suggest certain concrete improvements; the basement to be renovated to provide improved facilities for clubs and the Daily, a new piano for the ballroom, acquisition of a permanent P. A. system for the ballroom, reorganization of billiard and ping-pong facilities.

3. Last year's Executive took many progressive steps to improve the present facilities. I would suggest (Continued on Page Four.)

Paul L. White

A—POLICY.

The McGill Union is your Union, and the Students who own and pay for its upkeep have the right to see that it is administered to their advantage, as they would like to have it. My policy, if elected, will be to represent your interests and not mine as an individual. In this respect I will deem it a duty to consider all constructive criticisms and suggestions for improvements coming from the Student Body, and will strive to the best of my ability to have them carried out.

B—PROPOSALS.

The undermentioned proposals are not just my ideas, but your needs, and this is the reason why I will strive for them, as your representative, if elected.

1.—Immediate renovation and enlargement of Union facilities until (Continued on Page Four.)

Secretary of the Women's Union

Jocelyn Mackay

I should like to thank those of my fellow-students who supported my nomination for the position of secretary of the Women's Union.

One of the essential qualities of a candidate for executive position is a desire to understand fully the duties which comprise the office and to fulfill these duties promptly and accurately. The duties of the secretary of the Women's Union are to record the minutes of the monthly meetings of the Women's Executive Council and of the annual and semi-annual general meetings of the Women's Union. Too, as a member of the executive body of the women students it is the privilege and the duty of the secretary to represent fairly the opinions and desires of her fellow-students.

Mary Mitham

In the first place, I wish to thank all those who so generously supported my nomination for Secretary of the Women's Union.

The specific duties of the Secretary, as outlined in the constitution, are to take the minutes of the meetings of the Women's Union and of its Executive and to attend to their correspondence. On the lowest level such work can be of a routine nature, but as a member of the Women's Union Executive, the Secretary can and should assume a more active and constructive role. If elected, it will be my purpose to contribute as far as I am able to the efficient and harmonious working of the Executive in promoting the undertakings of the Women's Union and in co-operating to the fullest extent with (Continued on Page Four.)

Ann W. Ryan

I have accepted the nomination as Secretary of the Women's Union with the assurance that, if elected, I will carry out my duties as efficiently as I am able and will give my fullest attention to the work of the executive.

The secretary's principal duty must be co-operation with other executive members and I pledge my support to all programs carried on by them on behalf of the women at McGill.

The continuance and improvement of social and cultural activities; a more general acquaintance with the programs of associated clubs, the Debating Union and the M.W.S.A.A.; the broadening of Freshman Reception Committee activities; closer relationship between the women and their executive (suggestions and criticisms (Continued on Page Four.)

Alice Trevis

It is my belief that every woman on the campus should vote in the coming elections and should vote wisely. Therefore I should like to take this opportunity to state my aims as Secretary of the Women's Union and thus aid them in making an unprejudiced choice.

As secretary of this important organization, I will cooperate with the President and all the other members. I will aid them to the best of my ability with time, ideas and any talents I may have. I will try to interest the students in the organization and its numerous activities for it seems to me that this interest is sadly lacking. I will do my best to uphold the constitution and carry out its aims and through this organization, do my share in raising the standard of campus life for the woman students. (Continued on Page Four.)

R.V.C. And Engineers To Debate Tomorrow

An exhibition debate will be held between the R.V.C. and Engineering Debating Societies at 5 p.m. tomorrow in Room 33 of the Engineering Building. The topic will be "Resolved that since men and women are equal in the eyes of the law, they should be equal in the eyes of society."

The Engineering team of David Townsend and George Goring will uphold the negative, while Pam Morley and Lillian Stopps will defend the social equality of women.

Although this is an exhibition debate and not a regular inter-faculty debate, a decision will be made. The inter-faculty schedule will be complete when Arts and Science meets R.V.C. in the near future.

Representative to Advisory Athletics Board

Edward M. Ballon

In no Canadian University do athletes get less encouragement than they do at McGill. Ironically the authorities have long seen fit to blame the lack of stimulus on student apathy, but it is only the lack of leadership and organization on their part that has led to such a feeling.

What is the nature of our maladjustments? In short they are these:

(a) A tight-fisted and confused athletic financial policy.

(b) The lack of a well-known quality called "DRIVE" in the Athletics Office.

(c) Inadequate Athletic equipment.

No individual student can shake the University from the lethargy (Continued on Page Four.)

R. H. Davis

In presenting a platform for the position of Arts and Science Representative to the Athletic Council I should like to stress three qualifications which I have for that position: experience, interest and time.

Some of my activities as far as sports are concerned are as follows: Intermediate Basketball 43-44; Ass't Mgr. Rugby 44-45; Ass't Mgr. Basketball 44-45-46.

I am interested in a large number of Arts and Science students taking part in the athletic facilities available. This could be achieved by greater publicity. At present there is insufficient publicity of the various athletic competitions.

Murray Robinson

If elected, I sincerely promise to devote the full time necessary to fulfill the exacting obligations of this responsibility.

I have previously represented McGill Athletics as a member of the Senior Intercollegiate rugby team and realize the need for considerable understanding pertinent to all campus athletic activities.

During the past four years I acquired some experience in athletic management in the R.C.N.V.R. I believe this experience should be of value in this office.

In brief, my main endeavour as your representative will be to make the athletic program proportional to the increased enrollment and the (Continued on Page Four.)

President of the Student's Society

By far the most important position being contested in Tuesday's elections is that of the President of the Students' Society. Three men have been nominated for this post. There will be an opportunity to see and hear them at election meetings here tomorrow and possibly at Dawson on Monday and to learn what they intend to do if elected through their platforms which will be printed in The Daily tomorrow.

However, to consider their qualifications properly, we must first realize what the position entails. According to the newly-amended constitution, the President "shall preside at all meetings of the Students Society and shall be ex-officio Chairman of the Students' Executive Council, and a member of the Executive of all Regular Committees. He shall represent the students and the University as well as our representative to the general public, the Graduates Society and the other universities. Remember these things and vote accordingly. — A. K.

President of the McGill Union

Among the positions which will soon be contested on the campus is that of President of the Union. It carries with it a greater degree of immediate responsibility than do most of the other posts for which elections are being held. It is the duty of the Union President, in collaboration with the Vice-President and the Secretary, who form the Union House Committee, to see to it that the facilities of the building are kept available to the students. To do this it is first of all necessary for him to insure that the physical equipment of the Union is properly looked after and that whatever adjustments are needed from time to time be made. It thereby falls to him to allot to the employees whatever work has to be done. He has, in short, to see to it that the Union is maintained as a place which the male students can use as their club and maintain it in such a way that its use will be, on the whole, satisfactory to them.

Apart from these responsibilities to the students he has, at times, to use his judgment in doing what he considers to be in the best interest of the University. Each year there arise certain situations, the outcome of which will reflect to the University's credit or disadvantage. How he handles these situations will in the last analysis depend on how he thinks along the lines in question.

In casting their votes, therefore, the students will do well to consider whether they are entrusting their interests to a man who has the practical abilities to perform wisely the routine duties and to act in a way on more difficult decisions in which they themselves would act were they in his position.

Time and Tide

Another Step Up

A few days ago, a new all-Canadian publication arrived on the scene. Originating in Toronto and in a format very similar to England's Famous "Horizon" this magazine called "Reading" is now on sale across Canada.

There are not many regular issues which manage to exist for more than a few months. As far as Montreal is concerned we have seen the appearance and consequent disappearance of such publications as "Alert", the editor of which is one of the three that have started "Reading". Montreal's main lonely contribution to the literary field of Canada at the moment is "Northern Review", which is the final product of the combination of "First Statement" and "Preview".

Judging by the first issue of "Reading", the standard of work printed in it is one of the highest that has yet been presented to the Canadian public. It would indeed be a shame if this publication, too, would have to fold up through lack of interest.

The Editors are those who have taken an active interest in Canadian writing: Allan Anderson, Ronald Hambleton and Lister Sinclair. The first issues include contributions from P. K. Page, Earle Birney, Robert Greer, Fletcher Markle, Len Peterson and others whose names have become well known in the literary field.

There is good material here, good luck to it.—R.L.

East, West, Abdullah And the Girls.....

Perhaps

by M. W.

FLASH: East is east and McGill is west—so what?

Scandal on the Campus! We have just heard from one who knows that Abdullah (the rat!) has usurped the kingdom of ..... and is making merry with the most lasciviously attractive eastern harem that ever "went west". But this is not all! ..... the ex-Pasha of ..... angered and highly indignant at being deprived of his domain, and more especially, of his aforementioned lascivious harem, has made proclamation that he will go to battle against his usurper, Abdullah, on the night of March 13th, 1946, when the Revue opens.

The struggle for power and beauty will last four days, and we have been promised two knock-out punches on Saturday, March 16th! What a scoop! We haven't had one like this for six years! Every faculty, sorority, and fraternity is on tip-toe with excitement (or should be) and wondering what will be the result of this occidental oriental issue!

The information is entirely authentic, since our informer is herself a member of the said harem, and one who has been considerably tied up in the intrigue, plots, and plans which have been wild-fire on the campus to date concerning this affair.

We might add that, so unusual and dramatic is the story behind this conflict, she has sworn by Mohammed that she will write a novel about it that will shock the world—entitled, "I was a Chorine in a Co-ed Chorus" or "Forever Ambush" or "Little Red and White Riding-Shape and the Wolves". She has not quite decided which is the most appropriate title, so we suggest that after the student body has witnessed the show-down, a meeting should be called to vote for the decision! — M. W.

The Orange

By Helene N. Kernon

Oh, careless scent, nostalgic of my youth
Yours is the gypsy strain. The white and gold
Tziganes art thou and so shall remain!
For barefoot laughter ripples in your wake
And melody of violins softly cling.
Why come you now into my fetered years
A dazzling ghost to haunt me still?
Today I bought you with such tenderness,
Placed you within a torn, brown paper bag
Yes, tenderly and anxiously did I
Ascend the creaking stairway to my door
Vainly attempt to light the rusty stove
The snow tread with a soft insistent paw
Upon the night and frosty were the stars
But when I folded back your golden skin
Then came the shining fragrance tumbling forth
With joyous carefree shouts consumed the cold
Gilded the room in gold and silver arcs
Silvered the cobwebs and the ancient stove
Ruddled and glowed within the sunburnt warmth
And passionate eager faces brushed my eyes.
Oh, then my heart remembered with a wild
Yearning of spirit strove to free itself
Of Age. In vain! The fragrance fled and I
Was left with but a dark cold room again.

ELMER HALL

—by E. Atkinson and S. Grover

Through the empty dimness of Moyse Hall, up a flight of stairs backstage to a small room at the top, we went to find Elmer Hall, Director of Dramatic Productions. Mr. Hall can be found at almost any hour of the day and night, working on the many phases of dramatic productions which occupy his time.

Mr. Hall came to McGill from

Elmer Hall, Director of Dramatic Productions

the University of North Carolina, in 1940, but left in the following year to join the U.S. Navy. This year he takes up his former position, and has many hopes for the future of drama at McGill.

Born in Cambridge, Mass., Mr. Hall has twenty years of stage experience behind him. While still in high school he decided to enter the theatre. However his teachers advised Art School first, and after four years of extensive study at the Mass. School of Art, he graduated, Medallist from the Department of Design in 1926. From then until the present day, he has been engaged in theatre work of some sort. He has been actor, stage manager, designer, technical director, and Assistant Professor of Drama in Emerson College (Boston) and at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He has been for years a senior member of Actor's Equity and the City Club of New York.

He has worked with such personalities as Sally Rand, Humphrey Bogart, Bette Davis, Keenan Wynn. Mr. Hall has high hopes for the future of drama at McGill. In the near future new courses in stage lighting, make up and radio will be offered.

"The Quick and the Dead"

By John Eccles

They didn't keep me very long in hospital. Only a few days, just long enough to satisfy the M.O. that I could sleep without waking up screaming in the middle of the night, as so often happened.

When I came out it was a warm, sunny day. Being so exceptional in Lincolnshire such days always seemed surprisingly beautiful. But best of all, my bicycle hadn't been pinched. It was still in the rack where I'd left it.

I pedalled slowly up the road to the Mess, past Red Squadron's kites. At each dispersal were the bomb trolleys with their loads of thousands of pounds and a "cookie". From all sides came the whine of the winches as bombs were hoisted into the yawning bomb bays of the Lancasters. Above it all was the shrill piping of the invisible English larks. An engine coughed once or twice then began its deep throated roar drowning out everything else. "Ops" were on alright.

There were very few chaps in the ante room when I walked into the Mess. Picking up a paper I sprawled in a chair.

After reading the whole of the front page I found that I couldn't remember a word I'd read. Unconsciously I'd kept glancing towards the door, waiting for Taffy and the rest of the crew to come in. They would still all be up at the flights checking over T. Tommy.

Then suddenly I came out of the daze I'd been in. Taffy and the rest weren't up at the flights, they wouldn't be coming in for lunch. They were all dead, burned to a cinder. I was the only one of the crew left alive and I couldn't feel much of anything.

I wasn't very hungry but I forgot to tell the girl that I didn't want any cabbage. Someone asked me to pass the salt and I decided that I didn't want any lunch anyway. But my plate was empty and I couldn't remember whether I'd eaten anything or not.

Outside I untangled my bicycle from the jumbled pile leaning against the air raid shelter and rode off. If I could get away from the station for a while perhaps I'd snap out of this queer, sleepwalking feeling. Some of the chaps coming down the road called out to me. I waved and said something in reply as I passed.

"Luckiest type on the Squadron!" I heard someone remark. Someone else yelled, "Hey Andy, the Wingo wants to see you."

"O.K. thanks," I replied and carried on. The Wingo could wait. I'd never been very far afield from the camp except into the nearby market town on pub crawls with Taffy and the boys whenever we'd had a stand-down. It would be nice to bike along some lane and just lie in the sun on the river bank.

Elmer, aged 13, was worried about the girl, problem, and discussed it with his pal.

"I've walked to school with her three times and carried her books. I bought her ice cream sodas twice. Now do you think I oughta kiss her?"

"Naw, you've done enough for her already."

Concert Symphoniques

Three Montreal musicians distinguished themselves Tuesday night when they appeared with the Concerts Symphoniques orchestra. Desire Defauw conducting, in a program of Bach, Brahms and Beethoven.

Harve Baillargeon, the orchestra's first flautist was featured in Bach's B-Minor Suite for flute and orchestra. At times the orchestra drowned the solo instrument, but beyond this technical failing, Mr. Baillargeon's playing was superb. The orchestra too has learnt a good deal about the playing of Bach. Although the full possibilities of Bach's orchestral genius have not yet been exploited by this orchestra, the difference between the recent concert and previous rendition of similar works was marked.

Alexander Brott and Roland Leduc played Brahms' Concerto for Violin and Violoncello last Tuesday. This, one of Brahms' most passionate and turbulent works needs a tremendous amount of precision on the part of the soloists. The lovely second movement was played with exceptional beauty.

That Mr. Defauw's interpretation of Beethoven has undergone a considerable change since the initial disapproval of Chicago music-lovers and Germans seems evident. Beethoven's seventh symphony, that mighty work, seemed almost impressive enough on Tuesday. It still lacks the force which can be instilled into it by a more disciplined orchestra.

Nevertheless, the last movement, marked Allegro con brio, made up for a lot. That mad dance which almost brings a sensitive audience to their feet every time it is played was given a fine and strong interpretation.—C. L. ....

LETTER FORUM

Dear Sir,—At the beginning of this term, it was announced that the Players' Club would produce Lee Thompson's "Murder Without Crime" during the month of February. Unfortunately, production difficulties do not allow the Club to present the play, and through this column, I wish to inform the students of McGill about the situation.

Immediately after the first production "Granite," the club held casting rehearsals and production meetings for this play. Work was continued through the Christmas holidays and during the month of January and into February. Meanwhile, the executive, knowing the difficulties in securing Moyse Hall, made every attempt to secure some suitable hall within a close radius of McGill.

Although fourteen different auditoriums were contacted, each was either previously booked, or stage limitations prevented the production. It was planned to produce the play at Dawson College, but unfortunately, the stage equipment needed so much replacement that production was impossible. The use of Moyse Hall was impossible as rehearsals for various departmental (Continued on Page Four.)

Senior Hockey Team to Face Varsity on Friday Night

Redmen Seek Revenge For Last Week's Loss To Toronto Aggregation

Victory Necessary to Retain Possibility of Championship

The McGill Senior Hockey Team plays Toronto Varsity tomorrow night at the Forum in what will be for them the most crucial game of the entire season. Having lost to this same Toronto squad last weekend, the Redmen are seeking revenge along with victory. If they win this game they will be in a first place tie with Varsity and there will have to be play-offs to decide the Intercollegiate champions.

Campbell Confident

Coach Dave Campbell is quite confident that his team will meet the boys from Toronto and hand them their first defeat of the season. Although the team lost last week, Campbell claims that they lacked practice and were tired before they even stepped on to the ice. Nevertheless, he wants to

Previews And Reviews By Ryco-ed

Tonight the YWCA will play host to the coed senior and junior teams in two basketball games. This will be a return match and if the results of the last game are any indication of how the chips lie, R.V.C. should come out on top. The team is in grand shape for the coming intercollegiate match next weekend at McGill.

Toronto, Western and Queens will be sending teams to compete in this all important event. The games are scheduled for Friday night and Saturday afternoon March 9th and 10th. Although the teams have not been picked there is a host of good players to choose from these include Peggy Ann Macfarlane, Bobby Fenton, Eleanor Files, Alice Trevis, Mary Lemurier, and Malsie Adams.

Badminton Team

R.V.C. sports are really coming to the fore just now. This weekend the women's badminton team travels to Kingston for the Intercollegiate tourney. They leave Friday morning and will play Friday night and Saturday. The team consists of Peggy Ann Macfarlane, former Westmount High star, Jean Hood, wellknown McGill player, Joyce Elder and Ann Merston, a freshman. These girls have had plenty of practice and will supply stiff competition for their opponents. Phyllis Wood, MWSAA president and Miss Gladys Bean will accompany the team.

Archery

The Archerettes will again be vying for the coveted silver arrow trophy which has been awarded annually since 1932. Before the war this was awarded to the individual attaining the highest score on the indoor and outdoor ranges. Now only the indoor range is used. The Intercollegiate tournament will start on Monday, March 4th. There will be six rounds and the scoring will be done on an average basis since some sections have more archers than others. The silver arrow will be awarded to the highest individual scorer.

Swimming Team Goes to Kingston

Intercollegiate Meet To Be Held Friday; Redmen Down CASA

The McGill swimming team will travel to Kingston for the Intercollegiate meet on Friday. If the results of last Friday's meet are any indication of the Redmen's swimming ability, then they will bring home the bacon! However, the team will feel keenly the absence of Earnie Taylor, the 440 expert, who is still recovering from the injuries sustained last week.

Coach Vic Curran's team boasts of such talent as "Matchsticks" Maclean whose speciality is backstroke, George Athens, senior Canadian Diving Champion and Cooper of water polo fame. The rest of the team consists of Fullerton, Quayle, Elder, Van Wagner, Fineberg, Mingle and Hoffman.

Toronto seems to be the chief threat to the Redmen but if all else fails, we'll probably drown them. In last night's swimming meet against CASA the McGill Boys and Girls combined came out on top, 34-32. The boys won most of their races, while the girls did not do quite so well. The McGill relay team of Maclean, Van Wagner and Fullerton won, while Athens won the diving. Elder and Fullerton came first and second in the 50 yd. Free Style, while Hoffman and

Intercollegiate Badminton Play Begins Sat. Against Western Five

The McGill Badminton Club enters the realm of Intercollegiate Sport this Saturday when they plan to play host to a strong team from the University of Western Ontario. This marks the first time that matches have been arranged with Badminton Clubs from other universities.

Stu Burris, one of Montreal's top amateur stars, heads the strong McGill team. Harry Flemming, Ron Dussalt, Guy MacFarlane, and playing-coach Pat Robinson round out the roster.

Since only five-man teams will be participating in this meet, an American round-robin type of draw has been arranged rather than the normal elimination playoff, and all matches will consist of best two out of three games.

Following the singles matches, all played during the afternoon, will be a dinner in the Union. Doubles matches will take place in the evening.

Loyola Pucksters Defeat Redmen By 8-6 Score

Pitfield and Chalmers Outstanding Throughout Contest; Kennedy Stars

By HAROLD PUGASH

A fast skating, power-packed Loyola aggregation took the Red and White Intermediate ice squad into camp last night at the Loyola rink by a comfortable 8-6 margin. The final score, however, does not serve as a proper indication of the way the play went, since the local boys had the better of the evening's fray. They failed, however, to capitalize on the several breaks that did come their way.

Johnny Costigan's charges opened the scoring at the 5:45 mark in the first period when McGlade rifled home a neat corner shot on a pass from McBoyle. The Maroon and White came back to tie it up at the 18:35 point on McConomy's marker, O'Neil and Callaghan assisting.

REDMEN LEAD

The Redmen went ahead on Wrigg's counter on a pass from Read at the 4:25 mark in the second canto but failed to stem the powerful Loyola onslaught that followed. The Westenders poured the rubber past Pope in the McGill nets four times to end the period leading by a 5-2 count. Ward Pitfield and Chalmers were the most outstanding men on the ice during all this time and although the local puckchasers outshot their opponents they did not seem to be able to beat Kennedy who was a standout in the Loyola

Mingle came 2nd and 3rd in the 440 yd. race. Sydney Fullerton came second in the girls' 50 yd. Free Style.

Dawson Puckmen Nip Farmers for Fifth League Win

Summers, Henry Star As Snow Storm Fails To Halt St. Johnsmen

The high-flying hockey team representing Dawson College came across with its fifth win of the season last night when it defeated Macdonald College by the score of 3-2 in a very heavy snow-storm. The game, if it can be called such, was very close right up to the last period, although Dawson was never behind. Due to the fact that the puck kept disappearing out of sight, the game was a rather bewildering one for both players and spectators. Towards the end of the third period the situation was such that instead of playing for the puck, both teams went after the players of the opposing squad whenever they looked as though they might know where it was.

D. Whittaker and Dussault were the outstanding men for the Macdonald outfit, the former scoring both goals on assists from the latter. Cummers scored two assists for the Dawson team, while Henry got a goal and an assist.

First Period

In the first period Henry scored from a pass from Summers at the five-minute mark, and three minutes later Carieau dented the cords to put Dawson ahead by two goals. Bruogh was credited with an assist on the play. D. Whittaker then put Mac back into the game with a goal just after the half-way mark of the first period, having received a pass from Dussault.

The second period was uneventful, but the third provided plenty of action and is notable because of the number of penalties handed out

Senior Cagers to Meet YMHA in Annual Game For Doods Cup Tonight

Opposing Team Is Strengthened By Return of Former Stars

The YMHA Cagers are laying their Senior Montreal Championship on the line tonight in the Currie Gym, and are throwing out a "Come and get it" challenge to our eager Redskins. After the last man has been carried off the court, and before the Doods Cup is handed to the survivors, chances are we'll have seen one of the year's best basketball battles.

The "Y" Blues and McGill finished up on one-two order after regular league play, but when our team was forced to withdraw from the playoffs in favor of Intercollegiate and scholastic commitments the question of supremacy was left somewhat in doubt. Tonight's clash should clarify the issue.

YMHA TEAM STRONG

Although the YMHA team has been considerably strengthened during the last week or so by the addition of several former stars who have returned to the fold, Lou Davies and Co. undoubtedly took heart over the trimming they took from the erstwhile league pushovers, the Shipmates in the MBL semi-final last Tuesday night. Maybe, for a change, we'll catch Moe Abramovitch's quintet on the downbeat.

The Doods Cup, first presented in 1928, has lost most of its significance in recent years as a McGill team has been entered in the City League, but the game this year has assumed the proportions of a challenge match. McGill so far has won the cup seven times; the City ten.

Commencing at 8 p.m. a preliminary game will be run off between Baron Byng High and the North Branch YMCA Juniors.

to both sides. It was at this stage of the game when the puck became rather hard to perceive and the boys turned to more pugilistic endeavors. D. Whittaker and Dussault came across with their second counter of the night late in the third period to even up the score, but Hayward scored for Dawson to clinch the tilt when there was only a minute and a half left to play.

The game scheduled between Dawson and Bishop's for this Saturday afternoon has been ceded by Bishop's to the boys from St. Johns, so that the Dawsonites now have six wins to their credit. The Intercollegiate championship is thus within their reach, for they have but two games left to play and they played Saturday afternoon at 2.15 followed by the McGill-Varsity intercollegiate squash match. The McGill team is all keyed up for this their first college match. The team will consist of Bob Colquhoun, Dave Culver, Don Farlinger, Denis Stairs and Pete Landry. Last night's results: Wiele def. Bradley 3-0, Kenrick def. Bishop 3-2, Culver def. Gravel 3-0, Booth def. Haynes 3-0, Sharp def. LeFaivre 3-2, Gussow def. Stephen 3-0, Dinsmore def. Ross 3-2, Kenrick def. Gillespie 3-2. Tonight's matches: 5.30 Wiele vs. Parker, Culver vs. Booth. 6.00 Stairs and Pete Landry. Last night's results: Wiele def. Bradley 3-0, Kenrick.

"They shall not pass" might well be the sentiments of this stalwart on the McGill defence towards the game against Varsity this Friday night.

make no excuses for their defeat—they lost, but he does not think that Toronto will be able to repeat that kind of a performance against McGill this season.

The Redmen were out in the lead for the first period and a half at Toronto, but towards the end of the second they faded and allowed the Blues to whip several tallies past Jack Gelineau, who played an outstanding game throughout the tilt. Claiming that they were able to beat Toronto when they were fresh, Campbell says that the Red-

Winter Carnival Planned by MOC For Monday Night

Events To Be Held At The Park Slide On Mount Royal

Have you ever experienced the thrill felt by a pilot as he puts his machine into a steep dive; have you ever experienced the sensation created by a roller-coaster as it plunges down that last long dip; have you ever enjoyed the pleasure of holding a beautiful young creation in your arms with no objections on her part; and you ladies, have you ever experienced the feeling of being glad that strong, manly arms are around you, protecting you, holding you firmly and securely. If you haven't here is an opportunity to experience all these things at once.

On Monday, March 4th, between the hours of 8 and 9 in the evening, the McGill Outing Club will hold its annual Toboggan party on the Park Slide on top of Mount Royal. This yearly affair is one of the highlights of McGill's Winter Season.

As well as the tobogganing, there are other out-of-door sports which may be enjoyed by those who do not wish to take a few turns on toboggans, or are too faint hearted to do so. For these people there will be skiing and skating.

After the sliding, skiing or skating, according to the case, there will be dancing in the Club House. The music will be provided by some of the best bands in the country.

Tickets may be procured at the Tuck Shop, from Fred Barton or Walter Reid, for $1 a couple. Do not miss this opportunity to participate in some really enjoyable healthy out-of-door sports.

IUDL Hold Debates Tonight for Dominion Championship

Freshman...
...Follies
by ann n' sorryl

Yesterday we witnessed a strange sight. Sauntering past the Arts Building, we noticed two females, gazing at the main entrance of the building with determined expressions in their eyes. They moved cautiously, on tiptoes, scarcely breathing, and in this manner they ascended the first few stairs. Timorously they gazed about, and then with new courage, suddenly sprinted up ten more stairs. Now searching carefully around to make sure no one was watching, they took off their shoes and silently crept up to their goal, but just when it was within their grasp, two irate men burst forth, and with threatening gestures, banished the quaking girls back to the inferior side door.

You walk into the class fully prepared to catch an hour's sleep in the restful atmosphere of the math class. Glancing in a corner, you perceive a terrified, cowardly little creature, crouching down in a corner, and nervously working out the day's problems in tiny little numbers, before demonstrating them before the class. Once assured the problems will work out, he bravely faces the wily class, who in spite of his careful preparations, manages to refute practically every word he utters. Now hounded on every side by caustic comments, the poor lecturer carries on. Wishing to hide behind some sheltering obstacle, when suddenly a wall of Dallys is lifted, and waving gently in the breeze, the trembling math teacher cowers gratefully behind them.

On behalf of my colleague and myself, I wish to thank all those nice people responsible for putting out a pretty red covered booklet, which is awfully handy. Honestly, that Student's Directory is our Bible. No longer do we spend disconsolate Saturday nights vainly searching for gullible males, no more do we wander about the campus with fishing nets in hand; so don't be surprised if you receive a phone call one of these nights — remember — you're in the book!

Hoorah! Zowie! Whoopee! No, Hitler hasn't been found disguised as a taxi driver in Paris, the Russians haven't evacuated Manchuria, Franco hasn't committed suicide. At this point we would like to make a momentous announcement which will no doubt

McGill and St. Patrick's Debate in Ballroom at 8 On Compulsory Training

Second Home Team Will Travel To Ottawa to Contest Same Topic

"Resolved that every able-bodied Canadian youth should undergo one year's compulsory military training" is the topic to be debated tonight by two McGill teams, one in the Union Ballroom at 8 p.m., and the other in Ottawa.

Jim Hemens and Conrad Shatner will uphold the affirmative at home against St. Patrick's College of Ottawa, which is the western section champion. The judges for the event include the Hon. Lucien H. Gendron, K.C., a former minister of Justice, and Secretary of State, who is said to be one of Canada's top criminal lawyers; Rev. Gordon H. Burgoyne, minister of the United Church, president of the Prisoners' Aid and Welfare Association, Canadian Manager of the British-Dominion Emigration and vice-president of the Canadian Penal Association; and Mr. A. J. Lomas, superintendent of transport for the C.N.R. in the Montreal area. Mr. John Dando, lecturer in English, will preside over the debate.

The negative team of Isadore Rosenfeld and Ted Hugesson will travel to Ottawa today, where they will take part in the second half of the program.

In their last debate, Hemens and Shatner defeated Bishops' College by the vote of two to one. They were the only team supporting the argument to win in IUDL debates. The St. Patrick's team upholding the negative won the contest by the unanimous decision of the judges.

Rosenfeld and Hugesson defeated Ottawa University by a unanimous decision. The affirmative team from St. Patrick's College lost by a two to one decision. McGill is the champion of the eastern IUDL section, while St. Patrick's is the winner of the western section. Tonight's debate will decide the Canadian university debating supremacy. The winner will be awarded the IUDL trophy, which McGill has never yet won.

The Debating Union Executive announced last night that elections for executive posts in the Society for the coming year will take place on Tuesday, March 5, at 5 p.m., when an open meeting will be held. The list of candidates for the varied positions will be printed in The Daily on the day of the elections.

be mournfully received by our many, many fans (thank you mother). Naturally there will be some hopelessly insane and mentally degraded individuals, lacking in appreciation of the deeper intellectual works, who will receive this news with joy, but to them, we merely say, "pooh!" Freshman Follies is sadly making its last dazzling appearance in the upper left hand corner (we hope). We leave you with deep regret, having robbed you poor hardworking students of your sole Thursday morning pleasure.

And since this is our last column, we wish to bid a fond farewell to all the homely institutions around the campus, which we have so blithely criticized — the Redpath library, with its sombre atmosphere and its noisy students, the zoology la class (we still haven't had a good look at the professor, hubba, hubba, the Union sandwiches (no more indigestion), the reservoir, which proved dreadfully disappointing by not collapsing, the three bars which soon will be, the canine curiosities that continually clutter up the campus, and finally, the English 2 class — when is that lecture on Byron coming up.

plays, and lectures took all the available time.

The situation in the middle of February was this: The cast, production, publicity, and make-up crews were prepared for production, but a hall was unobtainable. Further delay in the production was impossible as conflicts would occur with the Red and White Revue, the English Department play, and late production in March was impracticable as final exams would be too close.

Therefore, the executive decided that production of the play was impossible.

I believe that special mention should be made to the members of the cast and production crews for their constant work, even though it is unrewarded by actual production.

such time as a bigger and better Union can be built.
2.—Better eating facilities, and at a lower cost per meal for students. This can be done. (e.g. U. of M.—34 cents for a good full course meal.)
3.—Improved conditions for conducting student activities, such as Society and Club meetings, reading room, bridge playing, etc.

If elected, I pledge myself to work along these lines, and will not be content with half-hearted attempts.

men will be able to stay out in front since they have not had to travel a great distance and will be quite rested before the game.

Same Line-Up

There are to be no changes in the team's line-up. The Hales and Sinclair will make up one line, while Porteous, O'Connor and Peirson will also be dressed and ready to go. On the defence Campbell is lucky in having Bob Broderick, Gordie Gosselin and Doug Heron, three stalwarts who have been playing sound hockey all season. In goal Jack Gelineau will again don the pads, and if he plays the way he has been all season he will prove to be an almost insurmountable obstacle in the way of the Toronto goal-getters. In a game which is expected to be as close as this one, the goaling of a man like Gelineau really helps to turn the tide.

Win or lose, the game this Friday will be a good one, and as Dave Campbell said last night, "If the boys play the hockey they are capable of, we'll win."

Immediately after the game there is a dance being held for the spectators at the Currie Gym. The band will be at the Forum to provide a little of their music between periods and the cheer-leaders will be there to make sure that there is plenty of noisy support for the team. All in all, it looks like an action-filled evening, and a very important one so far as our Senior hockey team is concerned. Let's give it lots of support, McGill.
